> Travellers who left Rumania early in July 1950 gave the following reports of harvest prospects in various parts of that country:

- Drought conditions have completely ruined all hopes for a hervest in the Dobrudja. In the district between Constanta and Harsova and in the Islomita River valley between Ciulnita and Calarași, in the Tulcoa region, and in the country extending below Constants to the Bulgerian border the crops have been completely burned out.
- b. A middling harvest is expected in Nuntenia and Moldavia. A middling good hervest is expected along the Danube between Giurgiu and Turnu-Severin. A very good harvest, especially of wheat, is expected in the Banat and in Transylvania,
